

The diagram illustrates a project schedule or timeline. It features a horizontal axis with several overlapping bars of different colors, each representing a task or project. The bars are arranged in a way that shows their duration and overlap. The colors used are green, blue, red, yellow, orange, and purple. The diagram is enclosed in a rectangular frame with a vertical line on the left and a vertical line on the right.